Tangerine 2015 1h28m Drama
Sin-Dee was released from jail and is looking for her boyfriend/pimp since she was told that her man cheated on her. Now she is on a mission to find him and his lover and teach them a lesson. But, during this mission, she learns the truth that was being kept from her.

3 Generations 2015 1h32m Comedy, Drama
Ray is a teenager that is making the biggest decision of his life. But, this choice is not only his to make. A lesbian grandmother, a heterosexual mother and a trans teen try to do what is best. All he wants is a fresh start so he can be the person he feels that he was born to be.

Viva 2015 1h39 Drama
He dream of performing in drags but his machista father and culture are getting in the way of Jesus dreams. His father comes back after being locked away and meets Jesus for the first time as an adult. Jesus has to decide whether to live and get to know his father or be Viva. In the end, Jesus finds so much love and acceptance.
Carol 2015  1h55m Drama
A store clerk and a high class married woman meet during the Christmas season in the 1950’s. Both have men that want to be with them and love them, but all they want is to be free and love without boundaries. Would you be willing to leave everything behind for someone you love?

Deep Run 2015 1h14m Romance, Documentary, Drama
North Carolina, home to those that are strong in Christian faith and home to Cole, a transgendered man. He and his girlfriend fight against the oppression and hatred, conservative beliefs and fight for acceptance with in the community. Cole has been fighting whom he wants to be ever since high school, this is his journey.

Moonlight 2016  1h55m Drama
As a kid and as a teen, Black was bullied for being Queer. With the help of Juan, a neighborhood drug dealer, but overall good guy, Black was able to survive. Falling for your best friend is not something easy, nor is it something easy for Black to understand. In the end, his best friend was the only person that Black truly and deeply loved.
But I’m a Cheerleader  1999  1h32m  Comedy
High School, this is where most people begin their path of self discovery. For Megan, she is struggling to be straight, her family and friends send her to a camp called True Direction, it is here that she is fully able to accept that she is not straight but a lesbian who is in love with the camp rebel.

The Girl King  2015  1h46m  Biography, Drama, Romance
Being a monarch is no easy task. For Christina, it is harder to prove to others that she belongs on the thrown for she prefers the company of women rather than men. But to remain on the thrown, she must have an heir to take her place once she is gone. Being the clever woman that she was, she was able to find a loop pole and remain true to herself.

Those People  2015  1h29m Drama
Charlie is young and in love. In love with his art work, in love with his best friend, in love with a pianist. But he must decide between the two people that he loves the most.
One’s first kiss can be a very powerful thing, but there is nothing like true love. In the end he learns that he can love them both, but love himself even more.

The Death and Life of Marsha P. Johnson  2017  1h45m Documentary
Marsha P. Johnson was a revolutionist. She stood up for gay rights and marched for equality. She was called the Rosa Parks of Gay rights. This is the story of Marsha P. Johnson, her life, and her “suicidal” death. Her case has been cold for 25 years and her friends and family want the truth. Justice for all the murdered trans women that die in the U.S. and their deaths are ruled out as suicides.

Growing Up Trans  2015  1h24m Documentary
Not everyone is comfortable in their own body. But what if you were born into the wrong body? Children as young as 2 or 3 know that something is wrong. This documentary focuses on the life of trans youth and how they and their family and friends view the child’s identity. In the end, these kids just want to be themselves.

Hurricane Bianca  2016  1h24m Comedy
Richard Martinez is a man in love with the idea of teaching. But on his first day teaching at a school Texas, he is fired for being gay. Not being the type of person that gives up easily, he decides to transform to Bianca and shows the homophobic community that there is nothing wrong with being different and that teaching has nothing to do with your sexuality.
Saving Face  2004  1hr 31m Romantic Comedy
This romantic comedy focuses on Wil who is a closeted Asian-American woman that discovers that she is a lesbian, but doesn’t tell her very traditional mother or grandparents. She meets another Asian-American, Vivian, and is instantly attracted to her. The two keep their relationship secret and go on countless dates, until their romance is put to the test when Wil’s mother reveals that she has been kicked out of her parent’s house for being pregnant out of wedlock. This puts tension on Wil and Vivian’s relationship because they have to be extra careful now. Eventually, the stress is too much and they break up. Vivian heads to Paris to perform modern dance and Wil stays in New York City and continues to be a surgeon. After three months pass, Wil and Vivian meet again at a party for Wil’s mother and her baby. The two rekindle after Wil publicly shows her love and the rest is history.

For The Bible Tells Me So  2008  1hr 35m Documentary
A documentary about homosexuality and its’ conflict with religion, but specifically Christianity. This provides lengthy interviews with people within the LGBTQ+ community that come from religious families and backgrounds, while also interviewing religious officials on their view of the Bible. Both of these views provide different perspectives of how religion affects those who don’t conform in society. It also focuses on how conservative Christians’ interpretation of the Bible is commonly used as a way to deny homosexuals equal rights.
REN'T 2005 2hr 15m Musical
Based on a Broadway musical, RENT tells the story of a group of friends living through the AIDS epidemic. This film focuses on their struggles with their sexualities, substance abuses, living with AIDS, and of course, paying rent. All of these different personalities comes to life when they break out into song and dance to express their feelings. Watching this movie will teach you how to measure your life in love.

Paris is Burning (1991) 1 hr 18m Documentary
This documentary focuses on drag queens who live in New York City in the 80's and their culture. The queens talk about everything from racism, homophobia, and poverty to some even being sex workers. This film captures a wonderful perspective on the drag culture and talks about the origins of “voguing” and many other moments that will forever live on in herstory. RuPaul has quoted several lines during RuPaul's Drag Race, which has helped keep this film alive.
MILK 2008 2hr 8m Drama
This movie describes the life of Harvey Milk, who was a gay rights activist and politician in California. He was the first openly gay person to hold a public office position in the state. This movie shows the frustration of the LGBT community during the 70’s because of opposition from certain religious groups. Through Milk's perseverance, he finally wins a seat on the San Francisco Board of Supervisors in 1977 for District 5 after losing previous times for other positions in office. After working hard to defeat Proposition 6, which would have banned openly gay and lesbian individuals from teaching in public schools, Milk's life was taken tragically. This film gives respect to all that he has done for the community.

Intersexion 2012 1hr 8m Documentary
This documentary explores the lives of intersex people and stereotypes or assumptions that surround intersex people. The people interviewed throughout the film give their insight on growing up as intersex, handling relationships with friends and family, and not fitting in with the binary model of society. This film won “Best New Zealand Documentary” and “Best Editing” at the Documentary Edge Festival in 2012.
Dangerous Living: Coming Out in the Developing World  2003  1hr 3m  Documentary
This documentary focuses on the issues and experiences of gay, lesbian, and transgender people in developing countries. While this film primarily focuses on the 52 Egyptian men who were arrested on board of a gay nightclub in 2001, it also interviews activists from Honduras, Pakistan, the Philippines, and Vietnam. I believe that this is a good film because it focuses on the perspectives that have never been documented before.

Middle Sexes: Redefining He and She  2005  1hr 15m  Documentary
This documentary explores gender and sex and the issues that come with them. Transgender and intersex people are interviewed about their experiences throughout their life. They talk about issues such as violence, homophobia, marriage, and even getting kicked out of the Olympic games because of their genetic make up.
Philadelphia 1993 2hr 6m Drama
This film focuses on the story of a lawyer who is a closeted homosexual and living with AIDS. He is fired from his firm because they claim he was incompetent, but he believes that he was fired because someone found out that he had AIDS. He wants to prove this theory, but no lawyers will initially take him because of their own homophobic views, so he has to represent himself. After witnessing him being wrongly treated because of his diagnosis, a lawyer steps up and defends his case. This film is the first mainstream movies to acknowledge HIV/AIDS, homosexuality, and homophobia.