SDSU LGBTQ+ Lecture Series

“Not your father's police department: how law enforcement became LGBT-friendly”
Dr. Roddrick Colvin

February 1st
11:00am-12:00pm
@ SDSU Pride Center

Roddick Colvin joined the faculty in the School of Public Affairs in the fall of 2017, and teaches courses in public administration and criminal justice. His research interests include public employment equity, police officers' shared perceptions, and lesbian and gay civil rights. He is the author of Lesbian and Gay Cops: Diversity and Effective Policing (Lynne Rienner Publishing, 2012). This talk will highlight the broad changes that influenced policing over the last 25 years, and how those changes affected LGBT community - police relations.
